

■ Round wire

The round wire is Fuji's standard product based on 40 year's experience & technique. Especially, our round wire, which is coated by hi-density tin layer, has been appreciated for long years by so many customers (overseas as well as in domestic) who desire the leading wire, as electric parts, which needs the higher efficiency of soldering process as well as the higher operability.

Under the growth of Electronics Industries, the demand of mass-production as well as the request of higher quality have been raised up by all customers and this tendency shall continue from now on.

We, Fuji Electric Wire Ind., are confident of such future market demand.
